Foreword

To be successful a yearbook must have a theme — an idea which unifies the book. Rather than use the artificial type theme prevalent in many yearbooks (the ones in which the school is likened to a circus, a space ship, a farm, et cetera; the principal to the ringmaster, the captain, the farmer, et cetera; the faculty and students to the performers, the space cadets, the farm hands, et cetera) the staff has organized the ARGONAUT 1957 around the names and faces of the faculty and students of Garden Grove High School and dedicates the book to them.

" 'Tis pleasant, sure, to see one's name in print." — Lord Byron.

"A good name is better than riches."—Cervantes

DR. LEROY L. DOIG

Superintendent

For over thirty years Dr. Leroy L. Doig has been a familiar figure on campus. During his more than a quarter century of service, Dr. Doig has made great achievements in the growth and development of the Garden Grove Union High School District.

Board of Trustees

Elected by the public the Board of Trustees is the legislative and policy-making group of the district and serves to make and/or approve all regulations or policies affecting the school. Serving as board members this year were (left to right) Mr. Marlin A. Mower; Mr. William Wiesner; Mrs. Orestell Crosswhite, clerk; Mr. Robert L. Farrow; and Mr. Lawrence Wood, president.

Kenneth Dungan
Assistant Superintendent

District Administrators

District administration was reorganized for the 1956-57 school term. Two new officials were appointed to serve the two schools of the district. Mr. Myron Kirsch became director of health, welfare, and special education and Mr. William V. McClain was named principal of adult and summer school.

District Personnel

Serving the district office were (left to right)
Mrs. Carolyn Ritter, Mr. Harold Reynolds,
Mrs. Anna Coats, and Mrs. Blanche Conklin.

Principal

Mr. Donald S. Jordan, principal of Garden Grove High School, can always be seen around campus either working in his office, chatting with students and teachers, or attending the many school activities. An outstanding leader in Garden Grove and Orange County, Mr. Jordan takes an active stand in community and school life and will be long remembered for his many years of service to Garden Grove.

Vice-Principal

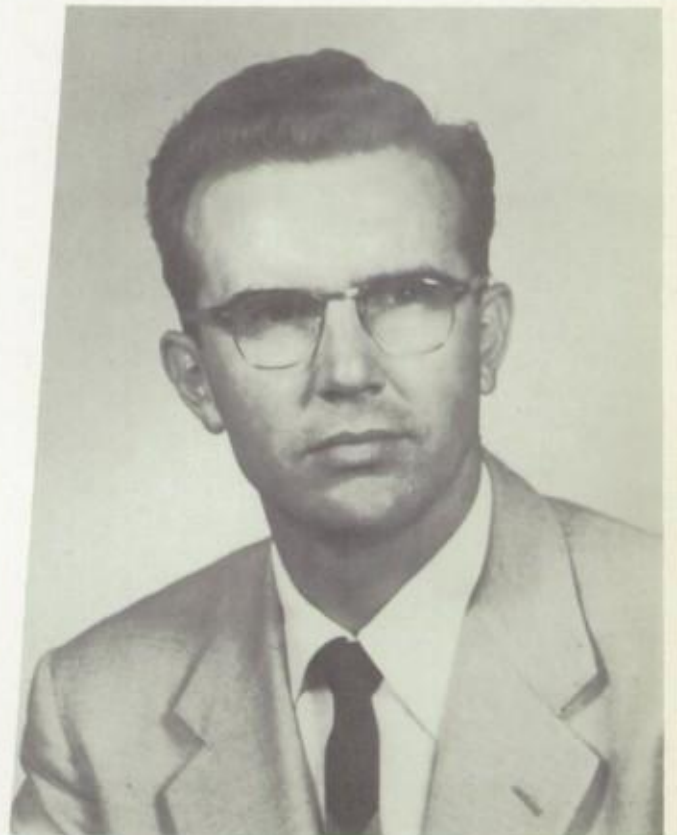

EILEENE LaBARTHE

Administrators

Many "new" faces were seen in the administrative division of the school during the school year. Mrs. Eileene LaBarthe became vice-principal as well as being dean of girls. Mr. Jack Schumaker was promoted to the office of dean of boys, Mrs. Sarah Talbot became registrar, and Mr. Harry Garber was named attendance officer.

The development of rich and well integrated personalities and of socially efficient citizens were the two main objectives of the Social Studies Department. Hoping to bring about a lasting interest in history, to enhance students' ability to comprehend a series of successive events, and to improve the ability to visualize clearly overt acts of the historical scene, the department emphasized vocabulary terms, information concerning important persons, places, and dates in history, the ability to use books, skills in picture and map interpretation, and the actual making of maps.

The principal goal in all English classes was the development of proper and competent expression in both written and oral English. To achieve this, both regular English materials and such new study devices as the Controlled Reader and the Iowa Reading Program were used. Expressive skills were developed through courses in speech, drama, and stage productions, and writing skills were enhanced in journalism courses. Language arts were also developed in courses in Latin, French, and Spanish.

Offering mathematics for every student who wished to take it, the Mathematics Department adjusted standards to class level and the ability of the students in each section to achieve the objective of improving each student to the maximum of his mathematical capacity. Standards in advanced classes of algebra, solid geometry, and trigonometry conformed to the requirements of colleges and universities.

Science

Preparing students to approach problems of all kinds in a logical and systematic manner was the main objective of the science department. Students became science conscious and science curious through individual research study in the form of a science project of their choice. Projects were exhibited at the annual Science Fair, the highlight of the year's science activities.

Homemaking

To fulfill the aim of providing experiences through which young people can develop an understanding and an appreciation of family life, making it possible for all members to participate effectively in the activities of the home and the community, the Homemaking Department offered instructional units with experiences in the following areas of homemaking: family and social relationships, child study and guidance, housing and home furnishings, foods and nutrition, clothing, family health and home care of the sick, and home management.

Creative opportunities were offered to students by the Art Department through courses in ceramics, crafts, commercial and fine arts courses. The success of students' individual projects is reflected in the amount of art work accepted in major student art competitions. Principals of education, entertainment, and service were correlated by the Music Department through the band, orchestra, and choral groups. Division of groups according to level of achievement gave equal opportunity for participation to both beginning and advanced students.

Through mechanical drawing and wood, metal, machine, and auto shop courses, the Industrial Arts Department aimed to develop skill in the uses of tools, machines, and materials, and to bring about an understanding of the basic types of construction, repair, and maintenance. Sound practices of safety in the school shop, with application to the home and everyday living, were also emphasized.

Physical Education

P. E. classes performed calisthenics as well as participating in various sports and games.

In Boys' P. E. Department emphasis was placed on "core courses" — touch football, basketball, track, baseball, swimming, badminton, volleyball, tumbling, and apparatus — in order to give students a general idea about rules and basic skills. In the Girls' P. E. Department the principle of selection was stressed. Girls on freshman and sophomore level were acquainted with a wide variety of activities and emphasis was laid on physical fitness. Juniors and seniors were permitted to specialize in activities of their choice, keeping in mind the balance between team, individual sports, and rhythmic training.

Librarian

Library

To serve each individual student through guiding his reading interests, helping him with reference problems, and teaching him to use library "tools" was the task to which the Library Department dedicated itself. During the year over 25,000 books were circulated for periods of overnight or longer. Class groups used the library nearly 700 hours for reference purposes. In addition, students were encouraged to share exhibits or collection hobbies by displays in the library.

Mrs. Judith Bridges (left) and Mrs. Nancy Oogjen served as assistants to the librarian.

Nurse

The school health program, under the direction of Mrs. Benefiel, considered the well-being of students physically, mentally, socially, and emotionally. The main objectives of the program were furtherance of health education, health protection of the school community, health counseling, accident prevention, effective use of community health resources, and proper emergency first aid.

Mabel Benefiel
School Nurse

Office Personnel

Serving the high school offices were (left to right) Mrs. Edith Soest, nurse's assistant; Miss Jeannine Peters, attendance secretary; Mrs. Mary Cole, secretary to the principal; Mrs. Margery Lorton, attendance secretary; and Miss Billye Williams, PBX operator.

Bus Drivers

Maintenance

Cafeteria Staff

"The face is familiar, but I can't recall the name" might well apply to the cafeteria staff, who prepared tasty meals and snacks for hungry students and faculty.

Serving Hector's Hut were (left to right) Mrs. Gladys Delgadillo, Mrs. Alice Phillips, Mrs. Lucille Killion, Mrs. Zelma Ireton, and Mrs. Frances Lindsey.

Jason Awards

With Disneyland as the theme, the annual Jason Award Banquet was held February 27. Six school employees and faculty members were honored by being presented with Jasons, silver statuettes similar to Hollywood's Oscars. Skits by the various table groups comprised the entertainment.

JASON WINNERS for 1957 are (left to right) Mrs. Lily Wheat, Most Witty Argonaut; Mrs. Mary McClain, Wisest Argonaut; Mr. Joe Fitts, Most Loquacious Argonaut; and Mr. John Bassham, Most Carefree Argonaut. Not shown are Mr. Jerry Dressler, Most Bashful Argonaut, and Mr. Pearly Hibbs, recipient of an honorary Jason for service to the school.

Frontierland chairman Mr. Russell Bryant reads humorous letter from hillbilly friend.

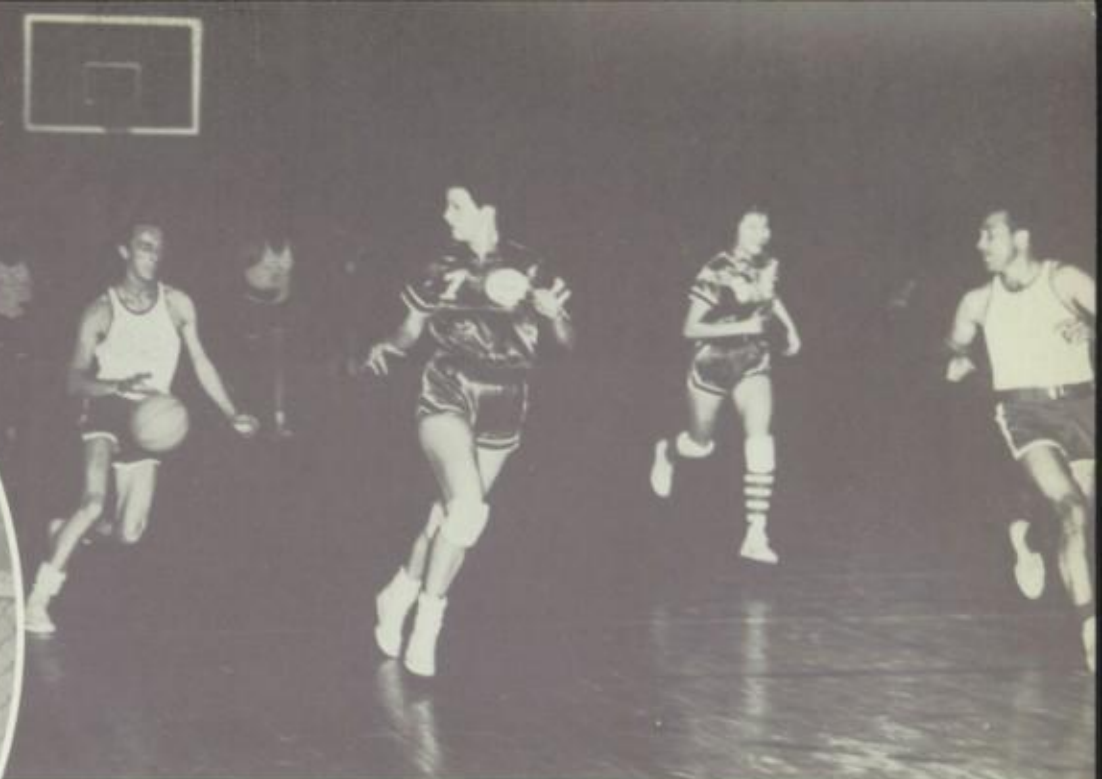

"Menu for Tonight: Professors, Phried, or Phrickaseed" was discussed by "cannibals" (left to right) Mr. Marion Law, Mr. Jack Schumaker, and Mr. John Bassham.

"My Sister Eileen"

Using a dual cast for the feminine leads, the Senior Class presented a rollicking comedy "My Sister Eileen" December 13 and 14. Directed by Mr. Paul Vorkink, the play was the second dramatic production to be produced in the new Argonaut Theatre.

"Too bad you don't strip though. We're always looking for new faces," Violet (center) informs Ruth (left) and Eileen.

"What are you looking at, you old bat?" Wreck asks Mrs. Wade as Helen looks on.

"I am creative enough without women," Appopolous explains to Jensen and a prospective tenant.

"Are those your working clothes?" asks Chic and Mr. Fletcher of Ruth.

Song Leaders

Eye-catching routines, practiced to perfection by the song leaders, added color and sparkle to the athletic contests throughout the year.

Yell Leaders

Arousing school spirit at pep assemblies and games was the particular forte of the yell leaders.

Showing their spirit are yell leaders (left to right) Pris Barker, Lynette Eulberg, Terry Tucker, Pat Johnston, and Heather Goble.

Flag Twirlers

With the Drill Team and Majorettes the Flag Twirlers added to the spirit at home games and pep assemblies. Artie Argonaut, portrayed by two boys this year, gamboled with the Song Leaders as a symbol of school spirit.

Hello Daze

Names and faces were paramount during "Hello Daze," a three-day activity period designed to acquaint freshmen with upperclassmen. The event was climaxed with a huge dance and the crowning of the King and Queen.

Frosh girls scramble for signature of Lynn Schiveley, student body president. Students with most names on their lists were admitted free to the dance. Girls vying for Lynn's name are (left to right) Shirley Haynes, Sharon Benard, Joy Kuhns, Esther Nevarez, Catherine Stimac, and Lynn McDonald.

Co-ed Dance

Sponsored by the Girls' League, the Co-Ed Dance was a girl-ask-boy affair. Nearly two hundred couples attended the dance, where lavish decorations and gay music prevailed.

Kathy Park asks stand-offish Wally Mitchell to the dance.

Successful, Kathy waits to buy her bid from Joy Jewell, Barbara Jones, and Donna Jackson also purchase bids.

Together at the dance, Kathy and Wally enjoy the music, along with Rosalie Grafton and Marlow Clark.

Carol Thomas beams at her winning candidate for King of the Co-Ed, Hal Buflod, exchange student from Norway.

Argo Dances

"Winter Wonderland," sponsored by the Sophomore class, and "Bermuda Hop," sponsored by the Lettermen's Club, were two of the many successful dances of the year.

Right: Allan Robinson and Diane Hopkins dance by lighted Christmas tree.

"C" Football

As this year's football season opened there were very few experienced players back on the "Mighty Mite's" team. Due to lack of speed and weight the team didn't have a very successful season, winning one, tying one, and losing five. However, under the coaching of Mr. Bruce Smith and Mr. Roger Wilson, they gained much needed experience for the years to come. Rich Milledge was named the outstanding back, while Jack Brooks copped the outstanding lineman honors. Doc Campbell was captain.

Suffering ups and downs, Coach Al Well's varsity cagers finished Sunset League play with a seven-win, seven-loss record and a thirteen-win, eleven loss season total. The Argonauts were very defensive minded and had the best defensive record in the league. Gary Davis again led the team as captain and high-point man. Probably the biggest upset of the season was the Argos' 54-48 win over league champion Newport Harbor, avenging an earlier 56-44 defeat.

Under the coaching of Mel Sothan, the J.V. hoopsters won five and lost nine games in Sunset League play. Many of them will move up to varsity for the 1958 season. The members voted Jim Semon and Ron Sisel co-captains for the year. Semon and Sisel were also high-point men with an average of 13 points each per game.

Starting off the season slowly, the Argo B's soon started rolling, losing to some of the toughest B teams in the league. Led by the excellent floor work and fine shooting of Wilcox, Gomez, and Thompson, they ended a hard-fought Sunset League season.

"C" Basketball

Coach Bruce Smith's "little Argos" came through the season with a two-win, twelve-loss record, beating Orange and Fullerton in the first round of competition. Capturing co-captain honors were Jessie Hosman and David Miller. High-point man was Eddie Cleveland.

Dave Dowling, Argonaut editor, prepares final message to seniors.

Parting Thoughts

"As we pass over the campus of Garden Grove High for the last time as students, let us recall the many experiences that have made our school so close to us. William Spooner once said 'I remember your name perfectly, but I just can't think of your face.' The '57 ARGONAUT staff hopes that this yearbook will be a reminder of names, faces, and events and will always be in your proud possession. Some friends we have made will always be close, while others will be remembered as you look through the pages of this book, remember the words to the Alma Mater — 'Argonauts endeavor . . . our best we strive to be'."

—David Dowling
Editor, ARGONAUT 1957

Miscellany

Jean Fogelberg, Carol Meyer, and David Winning show work they accomplished in their ceramic course.

Stuffing birds for a biology collection kept John Gwynne busy for many hours.

Taking part in the modern dance assembly are Donna Biles (background) and Clareen Sasse.

Swimming classes present an exhibition during Big and Little Sister day.

Miscellany

Girls' League officers show the "do's and don't's" in dress at assembly.

Visiting choir performs at Southern California Choral Festival held in Garden Grove.

Frank Chester adjusts motor on his roadster which won the title of "Argo-mobile of the Year."

Couples dance to dreamy music.

Junior-Senior Prom

Dancing to the enchanting music of Keith Williams' "Starbursts" this year's prom was held at Santa Ana College student union. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of seniors Lyle Adle and Jo Stevens as king and queen of the prom.

Seniors Anne Carlton, Kathy Bisch, Marlowe Clark, Lynette Eulberg, and Gerald Brady relax after a dance.

Queen Jo and King Lyle.

All Night Dance

"Moments to Remember" was the theme of the second annual all night graduation dance. Shelley Manne and His Men provided the music with Anita O'Day as vocalist. The dance was planned by a senior committee and received much help from the adult chairman, Mrs. Northcutt, and her committees.

Lawrence Wheeler and Helen Konwaler "sign in."

Enjoying refreshments are seniors Beverly Williams, Lynn Schiveley, Marie Tanner, and Bren de Boer.

Anita O'Day enchants the dancers with her singing.

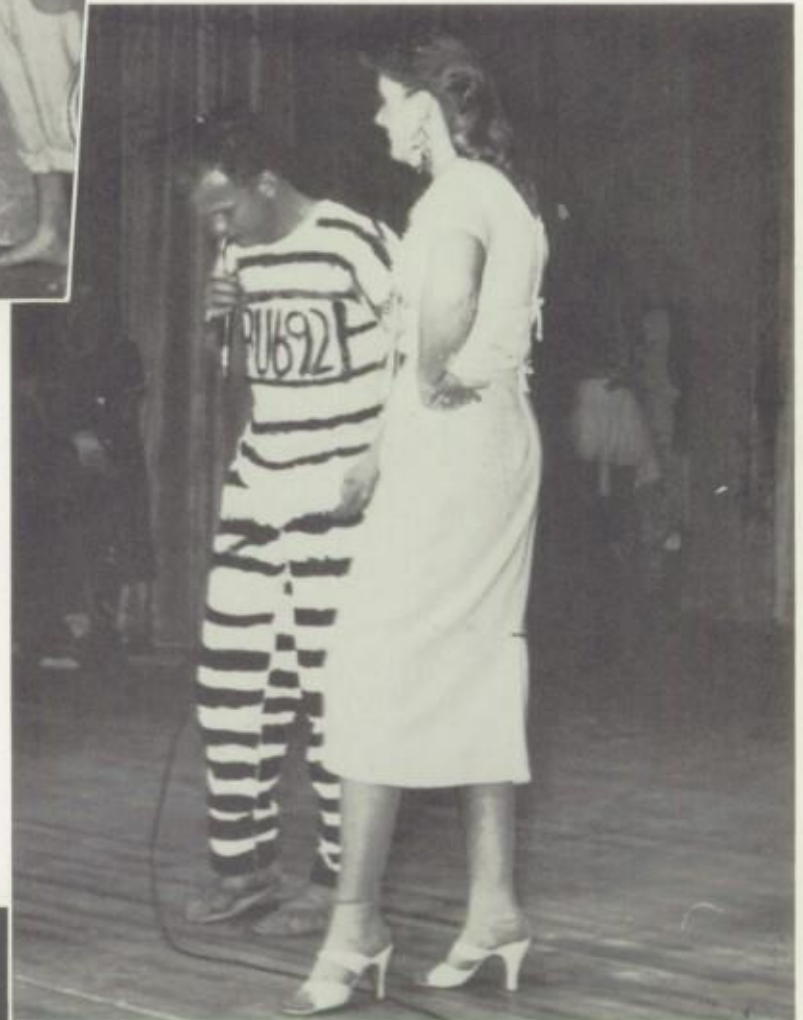

Many couples dance late into the night.

Senior

Seniors portray themselves in later life.

Lyle Adle and Mary Anna Hightower depict themselves during senior assembly.

Mr. Kirsch (Wally Mitchell) deodorizes student (Lynne Cooper) before class may begin.

Rick Allen tries his luck at senior bazaar.

Snaps

Volleyball was a popular sport at the senior-faculty picnic.

Mr. Donald Jordan discusses the different colleges with Wally Mitchell and Mrs. June Adams.

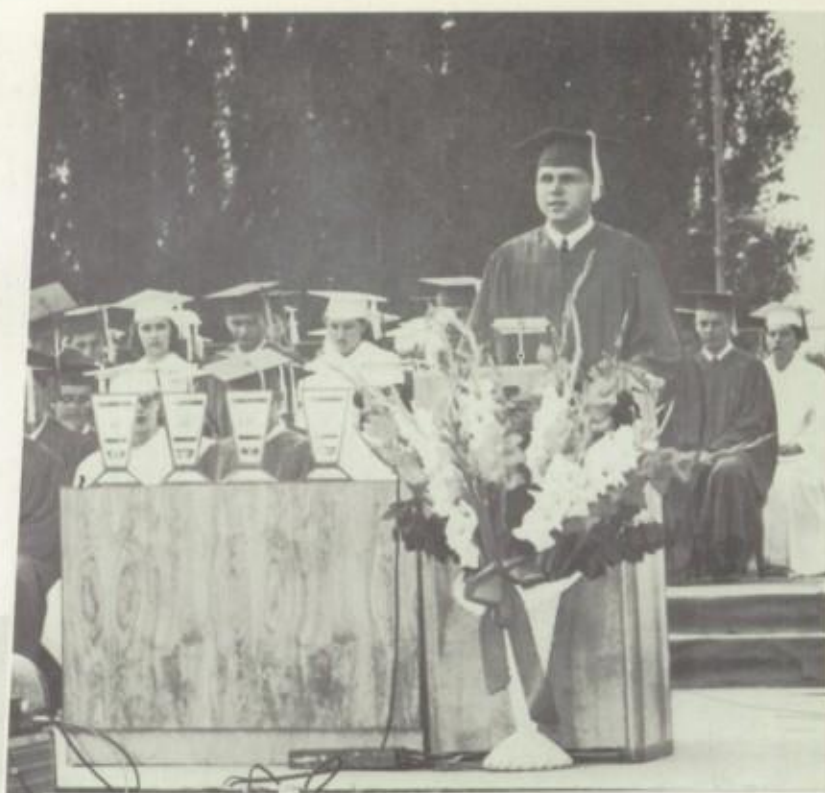

Many of the girls preferred to take it easy at the picnic.

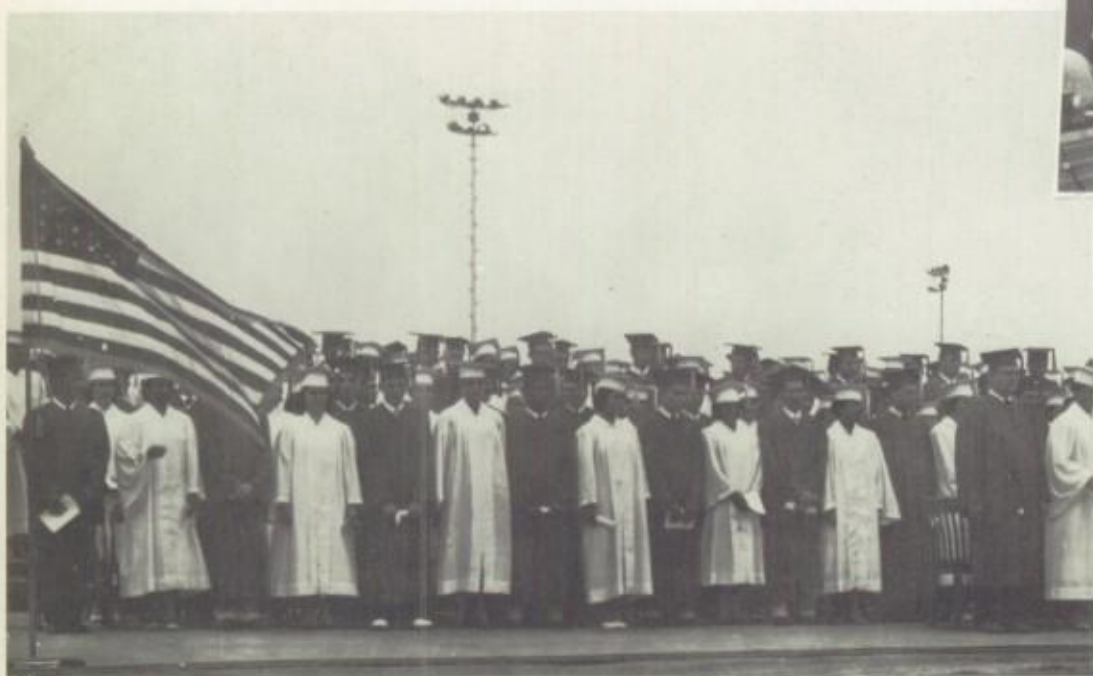

Seniors' version of an Egyptian pyramid.

Commencement

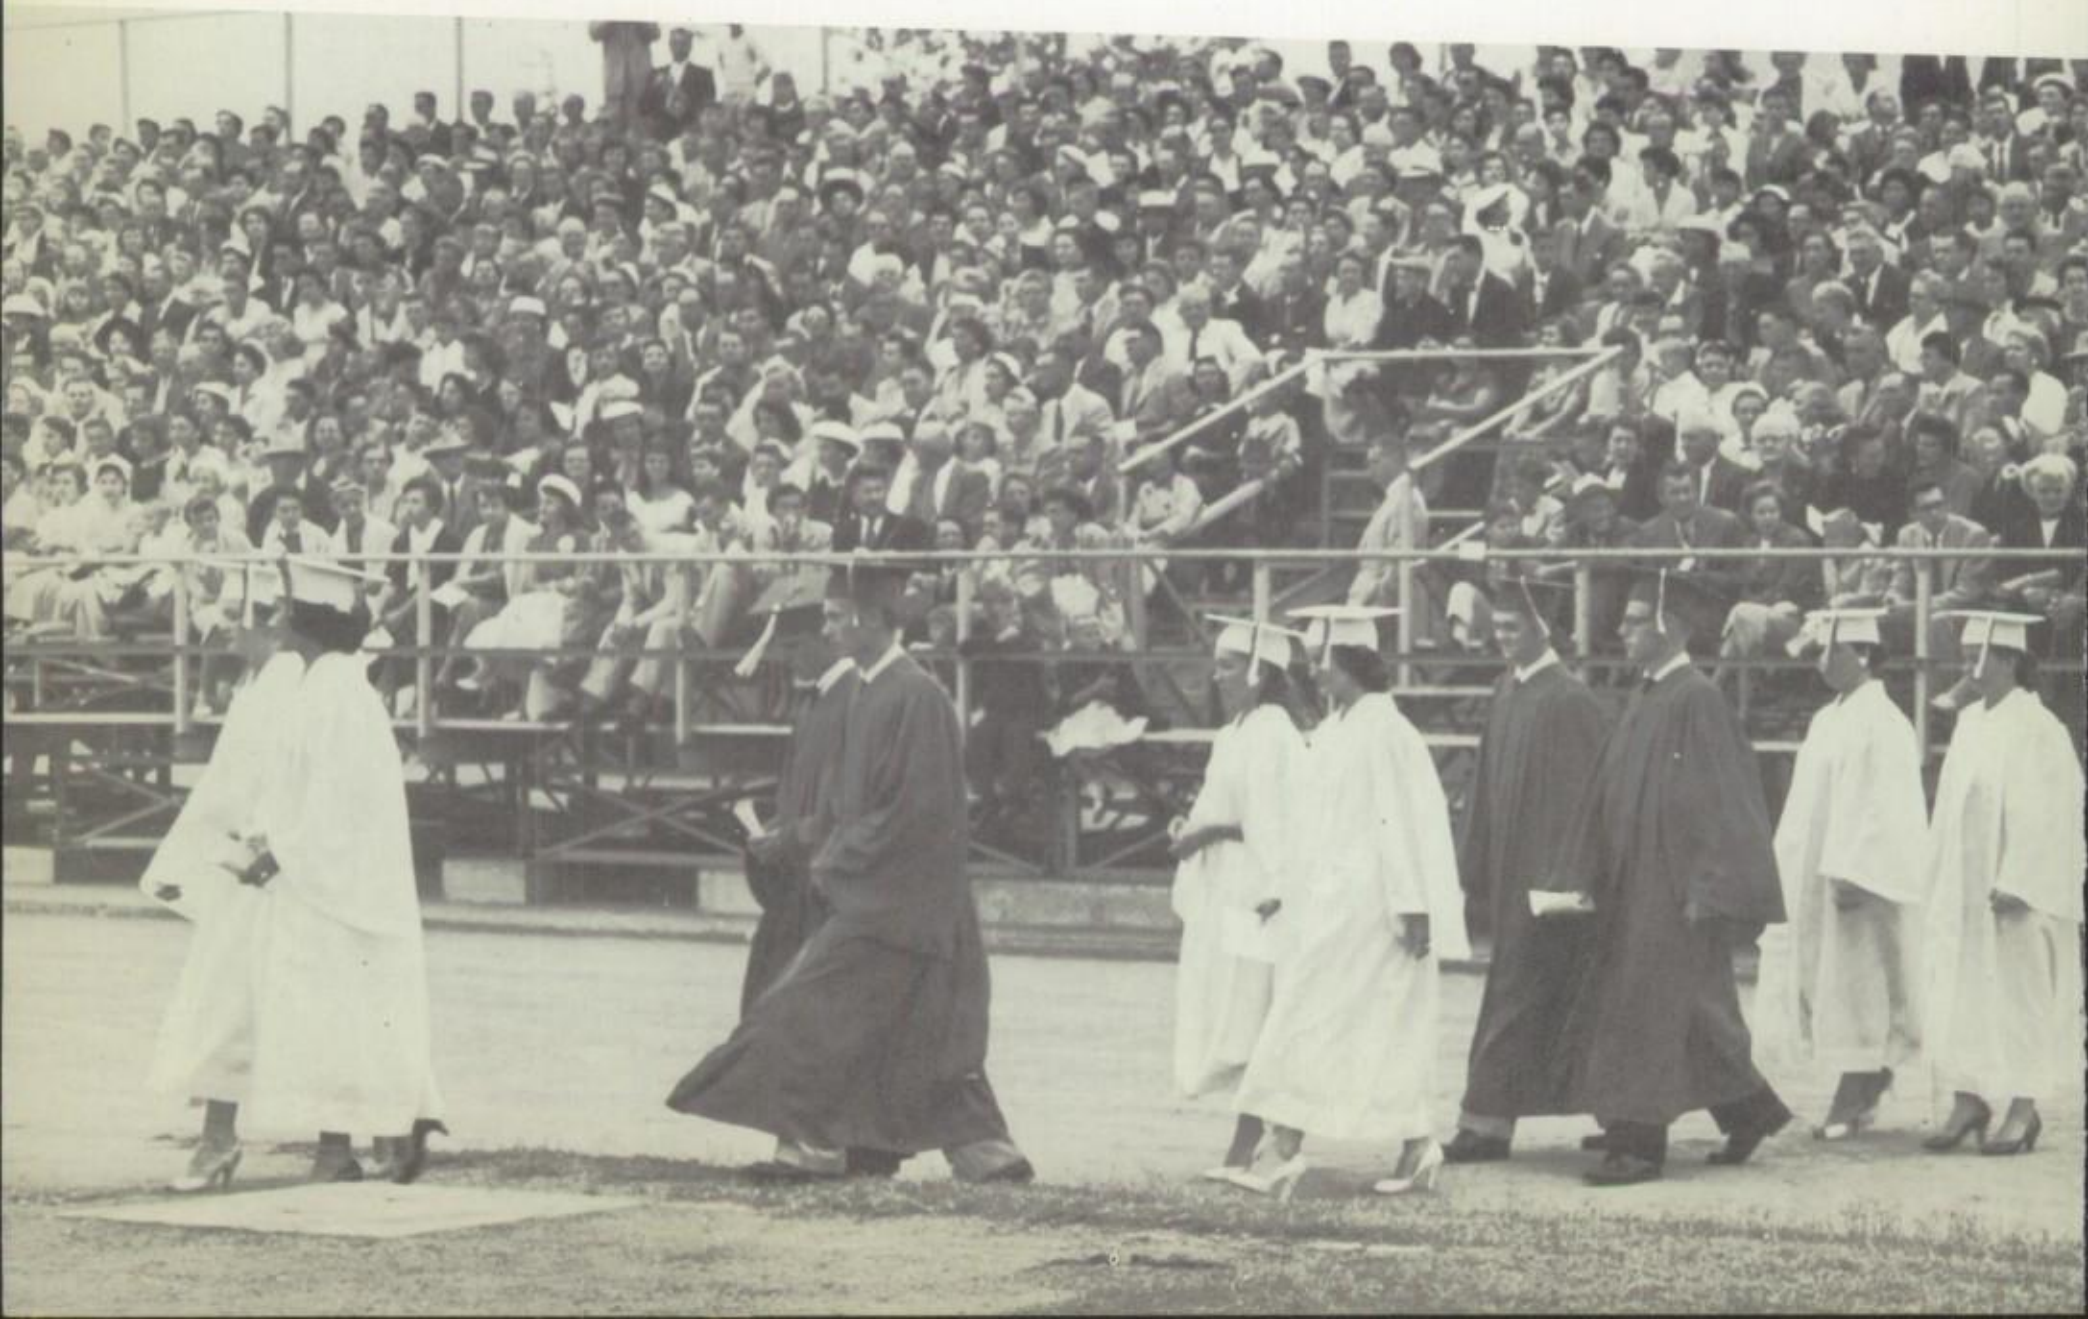

Thursday evening, June 13th, was a time never to be forgotten by the 387 members of the Class of 1957. Bob Ballew, Pris Barker, Willard Berry, and Carl Wilson spoke on "The Essence of Time." Holly Mortensen gave a piano solo and Bill Gourley sang "The Dream of the World."

Willard Berry delivers his speech, "The Call of Noon."

Class of 1957 stands for the Invocation.
